Kootenai Forest Stakeholders Coalition

Re: Support for Kootenai Forest Stakeholders Coalition

This letter is written on behalf of Sanders County Community Development Corporation and its board of directors to support the Kootenai Forest Stakeholders Coalition in its mission and activities dedicated to finding common-ground solutions to public land management.

Sanders County Community Development Corporation (SCCDC) is a small non-profit organization dedicated to the improvement of community services, facilities and the development of an economic climate that encourages business expansion and job creation within Sanders County, MT. Activities undertaken to achieve its mission include business services, community project facilitation, and tourism promotion.

Based in the county seat of Thompson Falls in Sanders County, SCCDC is governed by a volunteer board with representatives from communities throughout the county. SCCDC is a part of the northwest Montana Certified Regional Economic Development Center formed by local development agencies in Mineral, Lake and Sanders Counties. Organizational priorities evolve with needs of our constituents. Participation in community and regional projects are constant while small business development is the heart of our mission.

Sincerely,
